

We find the pet a home. Your organization receives 100% of the adoption fee.

We guide the owner through the entire process: From how to review applicants based on the knowledge and expertise shared by some of our 17,000+ shelter and rescue partners to conducting a no-pressure meet and greet at a safe, public location like a Petco store. When a good match has been made, we help the owner and the adopter through the transfer which covers all of the important points, including what happens in the event an adoption doesn't work out. We then transfer medical records and collect the adoption fee, 100% of which will then be donated to the referring shelter or rescue.

Refer relinquishers to reduce intake and support retention.

We know pet owners looking to find new homes for their pets contact you regularly. We also know that some people may actually want to keep their pets, but just need a little help. When you send relinquishers to Rehome by Adopt-a-Pet.com & The Petco Foundation, we encourage them to check out our retention resource library – filled with useful information on troubleshooting common behavior and training issues, locating financial assistance, and even tips for finding pet friendly housing.

Say goodbye to courtesy posts, unwanted liability, and scrambling for last minute fosters.

For pet owners who can't keep their pets, we get them started with the safest and easiest way to find a loving home for their pet. Using our quick pet upload form, relinquishers can quickly create a pet profile for their pet filled with info on the pet's personality, ideal living situation, and photos. They can even upload medical records to later be transferred to the new adopter. Once approved, pets appear alongside the hundreds of thousands of adoptable pets on Adopt-a-Pet.com.
